MercuryWorks Celebrates 25 Years of Innovation and Excellence in Technology

[Tampa, FL MAY 25, 2023] - MercuryWorks, a custom software development company, is celebrating its 25th anniversary. Founded in 1998 by Donald Bickel as Mercury Web Technologies, MercuryWorks has consistently pushed the boundaries of web technology to deliver products and services with a strong return on investment.

Christopher Karlo joined the firm in 2005. Since then, the high school friends have kept the company at the forefront of web development and built a reputation for crafting great apps, forging passionate relationships, and solving wicked problems. Throughout the years, MercuryWorks has empowered businesses to succeed in the ever-evolving digital landscape. While technology has changed dramatically through the years, what hasn't changed is the firm's focus on delivering value for its clients.

While most businesses struggle to make it past 5 years, MercuryWorks has proven its understanding of tech adoption, industry knowledge, and commitment to their clients. As MercuryWorks celebrates this significant milestone, the company reflects on its numerous achievements and the unwavering dedication of its talented team.

"Reaching our 25th anniversary is a testament to the hard work and commitment of our employees, as well as the loyalty and trust of our clients," said Christopher Karlo, Partner of MercuryWorks. "We have always strived to create an environment that fosters innovation, collaboration, and growth, and we are incredibly proud of the impact we've had on businesses large and small."

Beyond fueling their clients' growth with custom web-based solutions, MercuryWorks has been an active contributor in the growing Tampa Bay technology scene for a quarter-century. MercuryWorks team members have started and/or led countless user groups, meet ups, business organizations, leadership groups, peer groups, mentoring endeavors, and more in an effort to help cultivate a vibrant tech community.

In more recent years, MercuryWorks has watched the tech scene in Tampa undergo dramatic transformation. The city has seen a significant increase in tech-focused organizations, incubators, and funding sources, making it an attractive destination for tech business. The company's dedication to excellence and its unwavering commitment to the community have established MercuryWorks as a strong player in the tech industry, both in Tampa and beyond.

On a broader scale, with a quarter-century spent in tech, the company has seen the highs and lows of the market, always working to stay one step ahead of technology trends. This requires constant scanning of the horizon for emerging trends and experimenting with new technology. MercuryWorks is careful to not rush to adopt too early, while remaining agile and leveraging the best tools available. They've undergone several pivots and inflection points to keep relevant in an ever-changing landscape.

"We're proud of what we've accomplished over the past 25 years," said Donald Bickel, Founding Partner of MercuryWorks. "We're excited to see what the future holds and to continue providing our valued clients with innovative software solutions."

MercuryWorks' commitment to craftsmanship and its three core pillars has allowed the company to thrive for 25 years. As the company looks to the future, it will continue to focus on providing its clients with the highest quality software development services.
