Saint Leo University, Bake More Pies Launching Online Artificial Intelligence Certification Course

Course provides practical applications for using AI to grow business

ST. LEO, FL – Saint Leo University and Bake More Pies, a Tampa-based artificial intelligence (AI) automation agency, are launching an online AI certification course. Designed for business leaders and professionals, the Generative AI for Business Growth course goes beyond a surface-level understanding of AI, equipping students with tangible strategies, ethical insights, and real-world use cases.

The self-paced course includes six modules: an introduction to AI; how to leverage AI tools for business; AI-powered data analytics; AI business function automation; ethical considerations and pitfalls; and a future outlook for AI in the workplace. Students will learn about the uses of AI through several real-world cases studies and walk away with practical examples of how AI can be used in their careers.

Offered through the Saint Leo University Skills Academy, the course takes up to six hours to complete. Students receive a certificate and digital badge upon completion. Registration is $350 per person. To learn more, contact the Saint Leo University Skills Academy at (352) 588-8857.

To register for the course, visit www.saintleo.edu/generativeai.
